a writ of habeas corpus contains many errors, and for the purpose of correcting these errors I ask that you publish this communication. As the attorney of Mr. Marvel, I presented his petition to Judge Perkins, who, after reading it, ordered the writ to issue and appointed 3 o' clock as the time for hearing. At the appointed time, the petitioner appeared; Capt. Braden did not appear in person, but caused the writ with his return endorsed, to be filed. The return denied that he had the boy in custody. The boy was, however, then in custody in the court room-a fact of which Judge Perkins was not aware at the time the return was filed. Our statute (2) G & H 318) permits a return to a writ of habeas corpus to be controverted, and the petititioner therefore asked that his evidence might be heard By strengthening and invigorating and restoring the sys-This request was granted, and the facts disclosed tem to a healthy condition. Braden, a few days before the applicacation was made by Mr. Marvel, had ordered the boy to be arrested as a deserter, but at the time the officers visited Mr. Marvel's house for this this purpose, the boy was away from home. On the Monday following, petitioner called upon Capt. Braden and had an interview with him, rel ative to the arrest of his son. The Captain then requested Mr Marvel to bring the boy to his of fice on the Wednesday following, between one and two o'clock in the afternoon, which Mr. Marvel agreed to do.
